

Volume Eighteen

Travel While You Sleep

The performances documented on this DVD were executed by Charles Rice Goff III alone and alive in the Taped Rugs studio in Kansas City, Kansas, USA, on January 9th, 2009. A single camera mounted on a tripod captured the materials presented here. The videos of these performances are basically unaltered, keeping with the general theme of the UNCOOKED series.

Travel While You Sleep features four performances:

- 1 It Doesn't Matter (original Disism composition, first published in 1987)
- 2 The Aquarium (original -ING composition, created in 1980)
- 3 Ours (original Goff composition, created in 1980)
- 4 Improvisation

All verbal introductions have been removed from these presentations, leaving the viewer to observe Goff's sonic sculpting processes in their purest forms. Sounds are generated, manipulated, maintained, and symphonized with electronic guitar, various guitar preparations, Micromoog synthesizer, modified toys, various sound effects, a pedal loop duplicator, and some prerecorded cassettes.
